SILVER WOLF LAUNCH NEW SERVICES

Frozen and Chilled Food

Wolf International, part of the Silver Wolf Group, have launched a new service this year for food retailers and wholesalers in Andalucia. A new weekly Frozen and Chilled transport service from the UK which began on the 1st February 2009.

They have transported ambient foods for many years and have been regularly asked by many of our existing customers to provide a frozen and chilled service as well. Having researched the area there is definitely a need for a reliable and realistically priced service which is exactly what we are offering.

Labelling goods

Retailers face heavy fines for failing to label UK products and their ingredients correctly in Spanish. There have been some recent cases that have affected both large and small companies on the Coast. This problem has now been solved as Wolf International offers a full labelling service. Goods are transported from the UK and then labelled correctly at the new warehouse facility in Alhaurin El Grande.

At present it is for ambient goods only but in the future it is planned to extend this service for frozen and chilled products.

New Warehouses in Alhaurin

On February 1st 2009 Wolf International moved from their long established warehouse on the coast. The Poligono was becoming extremely congested and it became clear that it was necessary to move. When two newly constructed warehouses became available in Alhaurin El Grande they had no hesitation in re-locating. The new location is perfect for them and they have the possibility of operating from a third warehouse on the site should the need arise.

Other services

They transport everything from a parcel to a full load of 25 tonnes and have a specialist relocation and removal department. They also can carry airfreight and arrange shipments by container throughout the world.
